STILL OPPOSED TO SMOOT.

Wire Protest to Washington- Members Will Follow in Person-Depend Upon the Women.

The Ministerial association, through Its secretary, Rev. D. Arthur Brown wired yesterday, to Senator Burroughs, chairman of the senate emmittee of privileges and elections vigorous protest against the seating of Senator-elect Reed Smoot of Utah and stating that the alleged facts on which the protest was based, would b sent on in ample time before the sen ate was called upon to act. The exact nature of the protest, the ministers will not disclose at present, but it is learned that in a general way it claims that the senator-elect sanctions polygamy; also, that he was elected at th ictation of a religious sect. The min sters propose not only sending on al eged documentary evidence, but will send on members of the association and other witnesses, and in the meantime war is to be opened up through the various ministers' associations and wo men's societies of the country. Miss Helen Gould and the New York Evan-gelical Alliance. Some of the mem-bers of the Salt Lake association aver that "Mormonism" is to have an over-hauling before the senate committee that will place it before the country in a very unenviable light, and that the fight is on to stay. The written protest that was launched by the association some weeks ago in the shape of a leaf-let, has been mailed all over the coun-try, and every member of Congress has been sent a copy.

WHERE CAN THEY GO? Legislators Talking Wyoming, Colorado and California.

Now that the senatorial question is out of the way and only the regular rcutine of legislation is occupying the attention of the members of the house, they are beginning to think about where it would be a good place to go visiting before the adjournment takes place. Cheyenne has been suggested as the nearest place, with a possible home-coming by way of Denver, pro-vided by that time the arsenal in the state capitol has surrendered and all danger from riot and bloodshed has passed away. Others, and they seem to be in the majority, say it would be a capital thing to go to the Pacific coast, going over the Oregon Short Line and O. R. & N. by way of Port-land to Sacramento and San Francisco and returning here by way of the Shasta route over the Southern Pacific

The latter proposed trip would neces sliate an adjournment for a week or so, but those in favor of it say they would lose no time, inasmuch as they coul do their committee work en route, and not be obliged to look for straying embers and have their bills ready or action on their return. But fev on the Pacific coast and think that the coason of the year and at the same time a sort of educator.

Faith of Latter-day Saints Don't Brilliant Affair Tendered to Bureau | Such is the Decision That Has Been | Senate Committee Confronted by Reached in the House. Workers Last Night.

AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION

Bill to Establish a Bureau of Sheep Excellent Program, Including Re-Scab Inspectors - Irrigation freshments and Addresses by Elder Measures. Sharp and President Smith.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the reception last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp to the members of the Bureau of Information and Church Literature. In addition to those comprising the missionary corps there were present an equal number of escorts and a number of invited guests, among them President Joseph F. Smith and wife, making in all a body of perhaps 200 people. The parlors of the Sharp home were nicely arranged for the occasion and 'mid the radiance of happy faces and under the glare of myriads of electric lights a highly artistic and thoroughly enjoyable program was carried out. This was begun about 8 o'clock and was rendered under direction of Elder Benjamin Goddard, who acted as master of ceremonies during the evening. The program opened with prayer by Elder Samuel W. Richards and consisted of plano duets by Cecelia Sharp,saxaphone solos by Chas. G. Berry, vocal selections by Miss Lotthe Owen, violin solos by Miss Cloie Sharp, a recitation, "Old Robin," by Prof. J. H. Paul, a song by Mrs. Mag-gie C. Hull, recitation by B. S. Young, solos by Willard Squires, addresses by James Sharp and President Smith and a reading, "David and Goliath," by Thomas Hull. The addresses were brief and to the point, Elder Sharp expressing in happy terms the pleasure of himself and family at having such a great number of choice spirits under their roof upon such an occasion. Said he: "I feel that this is one of the nights that God has chosen to bless our home, us with your presence. In his remarks President Smith said he was delighted to meet with such an earnest body of Church workers. He complimented the Bureau of Information on the good work it had accom-plished and said that it was far better to represent ourselves before the world than to be misrepresented by others whose design was to injure and detroy the work of God. "The work on the the work of God. "The work on the Temple block," said President Smith, "will go down to future posterity and its fruits will be seen in years and years to come." Thousands of people who had never stopped to investigate "Mormonism" before hed bad bad stopped. "Mormonism" before, had had the op-portunity of hearing the testimonies of portunity of hearing the testimonies of these missionaries and had been led to rejoice at the privilege afforded them. In the course of his remarks President Smith grew reminiscent and related many things which were highly inter-esting to those present. In conclusion he congratulated the bureau workers, who gave their services gratuitously and without price, and bore a fervent who gave their services gratuitously and without price, and bore a fervent testimony of the Gospel, which, said Refered to the committee on irrigaof the world, for if closely adhered to it would bring the greatest prize of all, namely, eternal life. He closed by invoking a blessing upon the Sharp household.

KINDERGARTEN

PASS POWDER STORAGE BILL | SENATORS ON THEIR SIDE

Want the Statute Changed to Read "Shall," Instead of "May"-Big Obstacle is Funds.

The establishing of the kindergarten as a department of the compulsory publie school system is now more nearly accomplished than at any time in the history of the movement. The conclusion is based upon what transpired yesterday afternoon at the session of the committee on education of the state senate, at which time every member of the committee put himself on record as being in favor of compulsory kindergarten training. The committee was confronted by Mrs. E. E. Shepherd of the Mothers' association, who acted as chairman of the ladies' delegation; Miss Mary C. May, superintendent of the kindergarten department, University of Utah; Mrs. Jennie E. Nelson of Ogden, representative of the Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. W. T. Benson, representing the State Free Kindergarten association; Miss Emmeline Wells, representing the Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson, representing the same organization, and Mrs. S. I. Clawson, represnting the Mothrs association.

All the members of the senate committee were present including Chairman Love, C. P. Larsen, Barber, Bennion, Bamberger, Johnson and McKay, State Supt. Nelson was also present to say a few words in support of the movement, by request of the women. What the women asked at the hands of the committee was to have the word "shall," substituted for the word "may" in the law as it now reads. low says that "school boards may es tablish kindergartens for children from four to six years of age." The change desired is to make it read, "school boards shall establish kindergartens in all cities and towns of 2,500 population or over, for children between the ages o four and six years."

As there seemed to be a unanimity of opinion as to the change, it was generally agreed that the most and perhaps only formidable obstacle in the way was the raising of the funds necessary to establish the schools. All could see that to levy a special tax would kill the movement, and the money necessary to maintain the schools could not be taken from the general county tax, unless all the children of the county were given the benefit of the kindergarten

Everyone present took occasion to express his views, Mrs. E. E. Shepherd said it was misdirected effort that de feated the movement two years ago, but she thought the change was so simple and yet so beneficial she could not see why the Legislature would hesitate to effect it.

Miss Mary C. May made an enthusiastic plea for the change in the law taking the ground that the present law gave power to tax to the limit of four mills, and that no county was being taxed to the limit, it was therefore within the power of the county commis-sioners, if they felt so disposed, to levy the entire tax. In Salt Lake county the levy is 21-5 mills, and another mill would be ample for the kindergarten schools. Miss May said it was not the purpose to carry the change into im-mediate effect, but to consummate it in four years, so that young ladies could be trained into competent kindergarten in. Mrs. Jennie E. Nelson told the difficulty she had had with the Ogden school board, the plea always being "no founds." She said it now seemed that it was optional with the board whether they had the money or not. She maintained that no training can make a better wife and mother than that which a young woman acquires by teaching in a kindergarten.

Senator Bamberger said that the kinlergarten should be a part of the public school system, available for the chil dren of the poor as it is now for the children of the wealthy. He said he would do all in his power to have the statutes amended so as to bring it about. But he thought that if a special ax were suggested it would be opposed and therefore provisions should be made under the general law, Mrs. W. T. Benson said there was a great lack of contributions to the free kindergarten. Mrs. W. R. Hutch-inson said the kindergarten was neithr a fad nor an experiment; xcellent effects upon the child had years ago been clearly demonstrated. Mrs. S. I. Clawson pleaded strongly for the kindergarten affirming that it was especially needed for the children of the poor, whose home training was of necessity sadiy neglected.

Supt. Nelson could see the difficulty in securing the benefit of the county tax where the children of some of the districts would be deated. istricts would be denied the advantage of the kindergarten. He thought the proposed consolidation of the school listricts would do much to help the Senator Bennion thought the people needed education more than they did law. He was in favor of the kindergarten for he had witnessed its good re-sults in his own children. But he said they were unable to secure a kinder-garten teacher in Ulntah county last Miss May explained the reason for

was that kindergarten teaching develmen that they all get married.

The rest of the senators in turn exressed themselves as favoring the pro-
